The Pacific Railroad

HOW IT IS BUILT—LIFE OF THE TRACK LAYERS

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Evening Post]

OMAHA, Nebraska, Oct 11, 1867.

To the people of the East, the Pacific Railroad, building away thousands of miles in a desert country, and meeting obstacles only to overcome them, is a great enterprise but to the Western man it is the great topics of conversation, in fact, almost every man here is personally interested in some way in it either working on the road, or getting out ties, or cutting cord wood, or in some way connected with it.

Salt Lake and Denver now estimate daily the diminishing miles of stage travel and wonder when they can buy through tickets, home builders look to it for regular and frequent mails, and in it we are to find the practical solution of our Indian and Mormon difficulties. It is no wonder then, that the general interest in this road should be so great, and here in the West so all absorbing. Let us go out and see it for ourselves and while we are waiting in this pleasant little depot of Omaha see if we can't decipher from this confusion of Pacific Railroads which the great Pacific Railroad is, and what the others are.

THE DIFFERENT PACIFIC RAILROADS

Here is a Union Pacific and a Central Pacific and a Union Pacific Eastern Division, and a Northern Pacific and a Southern Pacific. Of these the Union Pacific and Central Pacific are the great Pacific Railroad we read about, and when completed will form one continuous line from Omaha to Sacramento. The Union Pacific is already completed nearly 500 miles west, commencing at Omaha, and the Central Pacific is in running order more than 100 miles east of Sacramento. They will unite somewhere about Salt Lake City. Both roads have Government assistance, and both roads have their bonds in market. The Union Pacific Eastern Division, starting from Wyandotte, Kansas follows the Smoky Hill route, passing through Leavenworth and Topeka, and is now in running order to a point called Ellsworth, about 225 miles out.

It is this road which is threatened by the Indians, and to the building of this that Ragged Shirt Tail and his companions object. This road also receives Government assistance, and as now projected will strike the Union Pacific at some point west of Denver, and will be a sort of branch of it. The Northern Pacific, starting from St. Paul, is as yet hardly under way, and the southwest branch running from St. Louis to Rolla, and thence by way of Santa Fe, through Southern California to San Francisco, is in about the same condition. The Northern Pacific is not intended to strike San Francisco, but rather Portland, or some city in Oregon, and the Southwest Branch will very likely make some point lower down on the California coast its western terminus. But while these other roads are debating what rout to take, or how to raise the funds to build the road with, the Union Pacific has thoroughly built and equipped nearly 500 miles of road is already within 100 miles of Denver, and although running through a waste of wilderness almost uninhabited, more than pays its expenses.

WEST FROM OMAHA

You get into the cars at Omaha at six in the evening. There is nothing in the passengers to remind you of the extraordinary nature of your trip unless it is that almost every one has a rifle, and that the conversation smacks of buffalo and the miners and frontier adventures. Comfortable sleeping cars are attached, and when you wake up in the morning we have passed Fort Kearny and are fairly on the plains. As far as you can see to the right is one broad, unbroken expanse of plain. On the left is the Platte with its bluffs, and here and there a straggling willow or cotton wood. But we have passed the region of timber and shall see no more till we come to the present end of the road beyond Antelope, where on the bluffs a few stunted cedars and pines wrestle with the winds for their existence. The "plains," in the sense in which the word is generally used, means all the immense tract of country which is without timber and water. Sometimes this is an immense prairie, level as a floor and covered with with waving grass, sometimes a plain, hemmed in on either side by barren bluffs. Rain seldom falls here, and it is only available agriculturally for stock raising. After leaving Fort Henry no farms are to be seen, but instead, now and then a scared antelope starts up and makes off over the plain, and the immense horns and bones of buffalo lying along the route show where they have been killed. At Fort Kearny four Englishmen came aboard the train who had been on a five days' hunt, and had killed 50 buffalo. The tongues they cut out and the carcasses they left. They didn't want the meat, and they only killed them for the sport of the thing. It is just this wanton waste of useful life that so enrages the Indian, and excites an anger which is vented on the first white man he is strong enough to overcome.

A WANDERING TOWN.

At North Platte we see the first Indians, a band of friendly Sioux, who have pitched their camp just in the rear of the town. They are a dirty squalid set as they stand wrapped up in their red blankets, sheltering themselves from the wind, and, like all Indians, the men are lazy drunken rascals, the women poor, patient drudges of creatures, who get more kicks than half-pence. North Platte was once a great town, boasting the Frontier Bugle for a newspaper, and nearly 5 000 inhabitants. Now, it consists of a railroad refreshment saloon, where you get breakfast, one store, and the "Progressive Saloon." The railroad made the town, and when the railroad went, the Frontier Bugle blew its last horn in North Platte, and the town took up its houses and walked to Julesburg. But the "Progressive Saloon," which had started from the beginning of the road, losing its breath with these marches, didn't progress any more, but remains behind, a comfort to Indians and soldiers. The Frontier Bugle next practiced its notes in Julesburg, but the inexorable railroad would give it no peace. In less than a month it was stretching out far beyond, the frontier was far ahead, and to be worthy of its name, the Bugle must seek another habitation. Accordingly it has started for Cheyenne, thirty miles in advance of the railroad, where it hopes to rest. But, alas! two other newspapers are there before it and the railroad is close behind it, and ahead is the Salt Lake Vedette. Like the Memphis Appeal which during the war was driven from pillar to post until there was no longer any post to go to it must accept its destiny, and no longer pursue the fading phantom of a vanishing frontier.

JULESBURG, THE WICKED

But here is Julesburg, the present terminus of the road. From here nearly a hundred miles farther on it is still in the hands of the contractors. Here the passenger cars stop. Here the stage line to Denver, 198 miles away, commences. Here are the Government warehouses, from which the different posts in this part of the Plains are supplied. Here are Wells, Fargo & Co's headquarters from which they ship to Denver and Salt Lake, and here are long ox trains and mule trains in which the freight to those distant places is transported. When all these trains are in, the town is a lively place. Probably, when at the height of its prosperity it could boast of more gambling hells, more rum shops, and more hells generally than any other Western town of its size. A little of the old life revives as our train comes in. An old roulette board commences its operations in the open air, drawing around it a crowd of railroad laborers and the "King of the Mountains, Free and Easy," becomes demonstrative. But one half of the town has already gone to Cheyenne, the next terminus of the road, and the other half will follow as soon as it can pack up. Soon the depot and the water tank and the "Progressive Saloon," if it has got up will be all that is left of it. The dispensers of amusements that still remain are obliged to offer extraordinary inducements to their patrons. Listen to the advertisement of "Yours, truly J Watson."

> Great excitement at Watson's Varieties—The proprietor of this establishment is happy to announce to his patrons that the price of admission has been reduced to the small sum of 50 cents including a drink free. Come on boys. Lots of fun to-night, and pretty girls to wait on you.
> Yours truly J WATSON

O crafty Watson! What Julesburger could resist that "drink free"! I know your house is crowded nightly. Another establishment advertises that it has "choice ladies" to wait on you, and a third declares that "the young ladies of this establishment, for good looks and quiet behavior are not to be excelled"—virtues which may be appreciated when it is remembered that such places are generally the scenes of fearful brawls in which the "young ladies" often take a bloody part. In the little burying ground just back on the bluffs are a good many graves, and all of them, with one exception the inhabitants say, are those of men who have died a violent death.

Such then, is Julesburg, and such Cheyenne bids fair to be—a town deriving its importance from the business which its location at the temporary terminus of the railroad and the starting point for trains gives it and thriving by the commerce of vice. It is an easy matter for it to move for the houses are generally flimsy one story things, often portable, and often half canvas. In the violent wind of Monday, three houses were blown away in Cheyenne and as many more in Julesburg. In a very violent wind some time ago fifteen houses were blown over in Cheyenne so that when you hear that a city has moved bodily away you may know what sort of a city it is and how it does it. It was in this way that Grand Island moved to North Platte, and both together to Julesburg, and now all three have gone to Cheyenne, and it is in this way that Cheyenne which three months ago was the home of the prairie dog and the rattlesnake is now a city of 5 000 inhabitants with three newspapers, and selling corner lots at $5 000 apiece.

From Julesburg to the end of the track we must go on the construction train, with the iron and ties, and trestles for bridges and other supplies necessary for the road. At Julesburg the road leaves the line of the Platte, which it has followed thus far, and keeps along the Lodge Pole. It is a rough ride in a box car, and we lose even that sorry comfort at Antelope. But the conductor takes pity on us and lets us ride on the engine. We reached Antelope about 3 A. M., and it was still dark when we found ourselves mounted on this snorting, clanking, wheezing, screeching machine, tearing madly away into the darkness. The engineer leans quietly out of the engine window watching carefully our lives.

At last the journey is over. That red light hanging out there is the end of the permanent train. Stiff and tired and sleepy we get down from our fiery Vulcan, and tumble down the bank and over a ravine until we bring up in the quarters of the constructing party. The room we enter is a part of a car partitioned off for an office, and contains a couple of desks and some office furniture. Boots, trousers and coats are lying around profusely, and from some bunks beyond, come the deep drawn breathings of men sleeping heavily. It is now half past four and still dark.

THE ROAD BUILDERS.

But just beyond all is a busy stir. At 7 o'clock the great work, which has been laid aside for 12 hours, must again go on, and at 6 o'clock 300 trackmen must be fed. No easy task is this to provide for all these men so many hundred miles away from the base of supplies. They do men's work and they do eat a man's meal. The keeper of the "Side Track Ranche" at Antelope, tells with a woeful face how he undertook to feed them, but in a week lost the previous six months' profits of his ranche. Two beeves, a cord of bread, and onions and potatoes by the barrel, are among the items of their daily consumption.

THE RAILROAD BUILDERS' KITCHEN.

We stepped into the kitchen where this breakfast is preparing. Cooks with paper turbans, and waiters with gunny bag aprons, are flying busily around. There are three immense stoves, on which great coppers of coffee are steaming, beef steak is broiling, and from whose capacious ovens bread is taken by the wagon load. There are potatoes and onions, too, and in quantities which would appal a dyspeptic. But while the cooks are getting breakfast let me describe the way in which the bone and sinew of the Pacific Railroad live. Of course, moving as they do, at the rate of 2½ miles a day, there can be no permanent buildings for them, the boarding house must move as they move. Accordingly, a train of cars has been constructed for the purpose, in which they sleep, eat and live. Do they lay five miles of track during the day, at night they find their home close at hand for them.

HOW THE ROAD-BUILDERS LIVE.

This train, called the "permanent train" on the principle, I suppose, that it is always moving—consisting of a flat car at the front, on which a blacksmith's shop has been built, a small box-car containing blacksmith supplies and work tools and three cars, 75 feet long for sleeping, eating and cooking purposes with, a treble tier of bunks on either side; and as quarters are still limited, many have exercised their ingenuity in slinging hammocks under the cars covering the sides with gunny bags to protect them from the wind, and others still have arranged tents on the top of the cars. By these means from 300 to 400 workmen are provided for. The next car, also a long one, is the eating car. In this a table extending the whole length of the car is spread, and accommodates about 125 men at a time.

The third car is at once kitchen, storeroom and engineer's office, being divided into three parts by partitions. The kitchen I have already described. The storeroom in the middle of the car, is a confused heap of barrels of flour and coffee, bins of potatoes and onions, boxes of soap and candles, and whatever else is needed. On the outside, hanging from hooks driven into the cars, are the quarters of beeves killed yesterday, and out there in the grass the main herd—the future supply—is quietly resting. There are a dozen fat beeves of them, but they won't last a week the steward says. At the end of the car is the engineer's office, where we first entered. Its inmates are still sleeping, and we won't wake them.

AT BREAKFAST.

But while we have been noting these things time has flown, it is half past five, and time for the hands to be waked up. This is done by ringing a bell on the sleeping car until every one turns out, and by giving the fellows under the car a smart kick and by pelting the fellows in the tents on the tops of the cars with bits of clay. There is some Dutch swearing, but they are not lazy fellows, and in a very few minutes they are all out, stretching and yawning, and in a very few minutes more are ready for breakfast. The teamsters, too—no small part of the whole concern—are also up and busy with their stock. Another bell, and they all crowd in to breakfast.

Let us go in and see them. The table is lighted by hanging lamps, for it is as yet hardly daylight. At intervals of about a yard are wooden buckets of coffee, great plates of bread, and great platters of meat. The quantities are immense, but great as they are, they are not enough, and are continually replaced by a dozen waiters, who form an endless chain of plates of bread, plates of meat buckets of coffee and empty dishes.

There is no ceremony at this table. Every man dips his cup into the buckets of coffee, and sticks his own fork into whatever is nearest to him. If a man on the seat next the wall has got through and wants to get out, he doesn't trouble his neighbor, but quietly puts one foot on the middle of the table and steps across. Never mind! as long as he doesn't put his foot into anybody's breakfast it is all right.

HOW THE TRACK IS LAID

Breakfast is over and work commences at half past 6, but it is not till 7 that it is fairly under way. We shall only see the track laying to-day for the grading, which is a separate part of the work, is already completed to Cheyenne, 30 miles ahead. The work of track laying is divided into three parts the tie-laying, the track laying proper, and the bolting and spiking.

THE TIE PLACERS

First come the engineers, who fix the line of the ties, determining where they are to go, next a set of skilful workmen who put down a few ties at the proper level enough to determine the position of the rest of the ties, and finally the great body of the layers, who fix the remaining ties on a level with those already laid down—workmen follow, throwing in dirt and ramming it down, and all is then ready for the track layers. These are a gang of 10 stalwart fellows in whose work is the great attraction. Taking an open truck of a car they run it back to where the rails are dumped off of the supply train, and load it with rails and the proper number of joints and spikes. A couple of horses are then hitched to the car and haul it to the end of the track, when they are unhitched and sent back for another load, leaving in their place a small but intelligent horse, that performs his work with great steadiness and zeal.

THE RAIL LIFTERS

The truck being at the end of the track and the wheels blocked, at a word from the foreman five men on each side seize a rail and pull it out over the front of the car to its full length. "Down," sings out the foreman and down come two rails into their proper place on the ties. In an instant, the man at the farther end has applied the measure and adjusted the width, the man next the car has whipped out the blocks, the horse knows that now is its turn, and strains and pulls, and the car runs over nine yards more of the Union Pacific Railroad. "Whoa up!" the horse stops, the wheels are blocked, again two other rails are raised, "Down," cries the foreman again, and down comes nine yards more. It is very amusing to watch the progress of the work, but you can't keep still. Every fifteen seconds the voice of the foreman rings out a sonorous "Down," and every fifteen seconds another set of rails responds with a heavy clang. Occasionally a rail comes out that is not perfectly straight. In this case, instead of putting it down, one end is rested on the truck, all the men steady it, and a mighty Hercules, seizing a tremendous sledge hammer, deals it such blows as soon reduce it to its normal line.

THE RATE OF BUILDING

Nine yards in fifteen seconds. Great heavens, what a pace! That is 36 yards a minute, nearly a mile and a quarter an hour. At this rate, counting ten hours a day for work, and estimating the distance to Sacramento at 1,600 miles, the work would be done in a little more than four months. But follow the truck along, and you will see why it is that this pace is not kept up, and why two miles a day is about an average of the work. A truck carries 32 rails. It exhausts its load then after dropping 16 sets of rails, and must go back for another. This is what takes time, for the rails are heavy and slow to be handled, and the truck must be run back to the point where they were unloaded from the supply train. As the track advances, this point recedes, and the truck must be run farther and farther back each time, until a new load can be dumped off nearer.

This and many other difficulties reduce the track laying to an average of about two miles a day. In September, owing to the want of bolts and spikes, only ten miles of track were laid. The most constant forethought and the greatest energy are necessary to keep always ready rails enough, and the thousand and one articles, the want of any one of which would stop the work. And, indeed, considering that the iron ... all over the country, much of it from New England, that the ties are brought from wherever they can be got, many from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, that everything ... has to be transported by a single line of track to Council Bluffs, thence across the uncertain Missouri river in boats, and again 500 miles to their destination, and that the daily consumption of rails ... progress is 200 tons, and of ties 5,280, and of everything else in proportion ... all this, I say, the wonder is not that the progress is not greater, but that it is as great as it is.

THE BOLTERS.

But to resume. The track-laying I have described only leaves the rails in place, kept [illegible] by their own weight. Close behind the truck from which the rails are laid come two men, who place at each jointing of the rails a clamp, and at each ... two, spiked. The clamps, called the Fish ... , consist of two ... of clamp iron, which are placed lengthwise of the rail and in the hollow of it, and are bolted together by bolts passing through the rail and both sides. The bolts are thus ... together and form one continuous piece of iron. Close behind the clampers come the spikers, who put in enough spikes to hold the rails in their proper position until the main body of ... the exact width of the rails is ... , the ... ly settled and the last spikes driven home ... the work ... This is the main work, but a [illegible] ... Fifty ... at ... parts, water carts are making ... to supply the whole establishment with water. Bridge men, three or four miles ... , make permanent ... bridges, and the telegraph ... be the ... of the rail ...

Every twenty miles a water tank is to be ... wherever it can be got must be set up and ... for the ...

The ... are now in ... ty miles ... and Cheyenne ... and is ... the Black Hills this fall. The winter will ... as as the ... work this year. But next year, ... will ... Dodge, the Chief Engineer of the ... just ... in the mountains, ... taking to form a new Territory to be called Wyoming, and to be made up of parts of Colorado, Idaho, Dakota, and Nebraska. Build the railroad, and the railroad will populate the new Territory.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 19, 1867.

A Political Platform on a Turn-T[illegible]

Again we have a disunion party a long us. Those who pronounced against "coer[illegible]" in 1861, and who declared when the [illegible] Union was on its last legs that the war was a "failure," attempted for a few months in 1866 to play the role of a Union party, and malignantly stigmatized as "disunionists" all who opposed Johnson's plan of putting the [illegible] in possession of the Government. One year ago, "the Democracy" were bawling vociferously for a restoration of the Union. They wanted the rebel States brought in at once. Had not the war been waged for the preservation of the Union? and yet here were the Radicals keeping Aleck Stephens and his associates out of Cong[ress]! Was such inconsistency ever seen? The Democracy was the only Union party. It was willing and even anxious to receive members from the rebel Congress into the Cong[ress] at Washington; and the Radicals, opposing this scheme, were disunionists and traitors. One thing was [plain]: If the Southern States were not [allowed] [illegible] in the Presid[en]tial election of 1868, the Democracy would fight. That was resolved upon, and the Radicals might as well make up their minds to it. And the last conflict, bloody as it was, was [illegible] child's play compared [illegible] this next [illegible] would be. If the [illegible] should [illegible] enough Northern States, [illegible] the vote of the South, to give [illegible] — a [illegible], they were going to have the President. [illegible] might just as well be [illegible] at once: all Radical disunionists opposing this inflexible "determination" of the Democracy, might as well begin to [illegible] for that "solid" [illegible] to Aver[illegible]. For the vote of the South should be counted. [illegible] it should be in spite of the [illegible] [illegible] a Radical Cong[ress]. The D[illegible] [illegible] in that [illegible]. If an [illegible] to keep the South out till after [illegible] election, war would ensue and [illegible] the [illegible]. The National [illegible] North and South, would [illegible] [illegible] power and crush the [illegible] at a blow. The disunionists would be [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] tones: [illegible] the vote of the South was going to be [illegible] [illegible] by the [illegible] the [illegible] and Democratic South in the [illegible], and woe to the fanatic [illegible] [illegible] were heard one year ago. [illegible] this high [illegible] that the [illegible] of the Union was not the [illegible]. The [illegible] was the object of their love, [illegible] in the North [illegible]. They had been [illegible] from their [illegible] they [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] who had fought for the [illegible]

[illegible] that the vote of the [illegible] the D[illegible] will fight [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] that on [illegible] to include the votes of [illegible] here we find the [illegible] Union [illegible] it is [illegible] in a way as to give the rebels [illegible] nobody [illegible] [illegible] often. [illegible] it could not be [illegible] facility. At present [illegible] will vote [illegible] to [illegible] further, to carry [illegible] votes of the North and [illegible] South, and then let [illegible] say what they are going to do [illegible] be [illegible] of [illegible] in 1865.

[illegible] Rev[illegible] Dent.—It is [illegible] the objects of Be[illegible] [illegible] our la[illegible] murdered by some [illegible] a jury all [illegible] how [illegible] to invest his money? Clearly by [illegible] it into Confederate bonds, payable six [illegible] of the independence of the Confederate States of America.

[illegible] At Dayton, Ohio, [illegible]-five invalid soldiers, [illegible] of the Soldiers' Home, were taken to the [illegible] and [illegible] for Gen. Hayes to a man. They [illegible] and helpless, but the Democrat[illegible] [illegible] epithets, while [illegible] yelled: "Pity you [illegible] lost both your [illegible]—Sorry that [illegible] leg was left!—Pity the rebels hadn't kill[ed] you!"

[illegible] Beauregard recently spoke of himself as "an [illegible]." In this he evinced a lively appreciation of what he would be if he had his deserts.

[illegible] RAILROADS AND THEIR INDEBTEDNESS.—The Presidents of the New York River, [illegible] and Petersburg, [illegible], Fredericksburg and [illegible], Virginia Central, and Richmond and Danville Railroad, were subpœnaed a [illegible] time since to appear before the Reconstruction Committee. The committee will proceed to Nashville, either by way of Charleston or Chattanooga. The total amount owed by Southern [roads] to the Government is said to be between $10,000,000 and $13,000,000.

POPULATION AND WEALTH OF KANSAS.—The forthcoming report of the Surveyor-General of Kansas will show that that State now has a population of 300,000; number of acres improved, 2,000,000, or one twenty-fifth of the value of the whole area; value of live stock, $10,300,000; value of crops for 1867, $35,375,000; value of farms and agricultural implements, $48,066.

BEN. WADE STILL IN THE FIELD.—The Toledo Blade [illegible], on what it considers good authority, that Hon. Ben. F. Wade has no idea of retiring from public life. His friends next fall will [present] him as a candidate for the House of Rep[resentatives] from the Ninth (Garfield's) Congressional District.

The [illegible] news-gatherers, will have it that the United States Government is negotiating for the pur[chase] of [illegible] in the West Indies. [illegible] islands have been mentioned as likely to be [illegible] St. Thomas [illegible] St. A[illegible] and St. Johns, and then St. Thomas, St. Johns and Santa Cruz. In [illegible] permutation and combination, St. [Thomas] always has a place; but if any purchase is made in that quarter the presumption is fair that it will at least include [illegible]. The three islands mentioned all belong to Denmark, but it is stated that France has heavy claims [illegible]. The last dispatch on the subject of the pu[rchase] gave out that the United States were proposing to pay Denmark eleven milli[ons] and a half in gold for St. Thomas and Santa Cruz, and to pay the French claim [illegible], amounting to seven and a half millions more. The islands are of little value except the convenience of shipping. They would afford a rendezvous for our navy and a convenient place for our [illegible] ships to call at in those waters, from which circumstances would be derived their principal advantage to us. St. Thomas is one of the Virgin group and lies thirty eight miles east from Porto Rico. Its area is only 24 square miles, and its population two years ago was 12,560, which has probably not since inc[reased]. The island is elevated and the surface is rough. The forests with which it was once covered have been removed, subjecting it, as in the case of other islands similarly deprived of their forests, to very severe droughts. The crops are not large, the soil being poor and not very well cultivated. The situation of the island in the track of commerce causes it to be visited by a multitude of [vessels]. Some years ago the number of vessels calling there was said to [be] [illegible] 3,000 annually. It is also a depot of goods for the surrounding islands. Santa Cruz, or St. Croix, is a much larger island and lies to the south of St. Thomas. It contains about 100 square miles, with a level surface. The soil is fertile and sugar is the principal production. This island has been at different times in the hands of the Dutch, British, Spanish and French, the last of whom ceded it to Denmark. The whole group is much subject to hurricanes, and it is interesting to read at this particular time, when negotiations are said to be going on for the transfer of some of the islands to the United States, that a tornado only a few days ago destroyed nearly all the property in the group, and killed many thousands of the inhabitants. The loss of property at St. Thomas alone is said to amount to $3,000,000. This is a good time for the present possessors to sell out, and perhaps it is not to be wondered at that under the circumstances they are manifesting an inclination to dispose of a piece of rather uncertain and dangerous property. The present is a good opportunity for those who inveighed against the purchase of the "fog-banks and icebergs" of Alaska to ridicule the purchase of West Indian tornadoes. But ours is a "great country," and why should we not show our superiority by boldly "gobbling up" the dominions of Æolus?

NOVEL ADVERTISING.—An English weekly newspaper has a column of advertisements from persons desiring exchanges. It is patronized by ladies only. Some of the exchanges proposed are very curious. One offers music and novels for a scent bottle and ostrich feathers. Another wants birds' eggs for foreign postage stamps. A third offers Longfellow's poems for a yellow parasol, and still another wants a volume of Swinburne's poems for a copy of Euclid!

GEN. SCHOFIELD'S INTERPRETATION OF THE OHIO ELECTION.—To those who hold up the result of the Ohio election as a verdict of the people against suffrage in the South the General says: The people of Ohio are not voting against suffrage in the South, only declaring that they do not want it, and while they may believe Congress has no right to force suffrage on them, they do believe it has the right to prescribe it to States which have lost their rights in rebellion.

One of the banners hung under Sheridan's nose in Worcester was profanely inscribed:

Y., May 14, 1856: "I have been [afflicted] with Bro[nch]itis during the past winter, and found no relief until I found your Troches." "B[rown]'s Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, give [great] relief in Coughs, Colds and Throat Dis[eases], and are for sale throughout the United States and most foreign countries.

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH.—And as everybody is buying their Clothing of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front Street, it must be a fact that cannot be denied that they have the Largest Stock of Clothing in the city, and sell it at prices that defy competition. Ladies, too, are becoming convinced that at the ST. LOUIS STORE they find just such goods as they want, and at prices that make them smile when they return to their happy firesides.

"GIVE 'EM FITS."—Every day or two somebody applies to us to give somebody else "fits." In all such cases we listen to the story of grievances as patiently as it is in our [illegible] nature to do; but in about nineteen cases out of twenty, find that the subject matter is purely personal, or so narrowly local that not more, perhaps, than two or three persons in the world have the least interest in it, result how it may. We frequently ask the applicant, "why don't you give 'em fits?" The reply is g[illegible] ally, "Well, the fact is, I don't want to get mixed up in the matter; I'd rather see it done through a [illegible]." Just so; these fellows who want the local [illegible] to "give 'em fits," are generally spliced with just [illegible] enough to be afraid of giving anybody fits except [illegible] their backs; but they have no objection to putting [illegible] local editor in a position to get his head punched. They are the style of fellows who are perfectly willing to [illegible] all their wives' relations, if the public good demand a sacrifice. We have an idea of our own about this matter of giving people "fits." If we happen to be in a [illegible], and the matter be our own, or if the public good require that fits be given to somebody, then we stand ready to "give 'em fits;" otherwise, we don't propose to deal much in fits. Certainly, we will not be made the tool of anybody for the purpose of dousting fits of any kind to other people. If Mr. So-and-So find himself surfeited with fits, and is particularly anxious to bestow them on Mr. What's-his-Name, why, let Mr. So-and-So [illegible] up to Mr. What's-his-Name and fit them to him, [illegible] like a body, to somebody else to-get it done [illegible]. Giving fits to people where we have nothing to gain and everything to lose, is not our strong suit. We're set on it.

[illegible] John A. [illegible] has been appointed P. M. at Horse Shoe Bend, (late Warrinerville), Boise county.

[illegible]—Mr. B[illegible] has [illegible] postmasters, [illegible] appointments [illegible] published, viz: Wm. A. Jack, P. M. at Butte Creek, Clackamas county, Oregon; [illegible] P. M. at Port Orford, Curry county, [illegible]

[illegible]—Under this head, we find in the North-[illegible] Presbyterian, of Chicago, [illegible] of the life and [illegible] of Rev. Alfred Hamilton, D. D., who died at his [illegible], Sept. 16th, 1867. He [illegible] of this city, and was [illegible]. He was born in 1806 at Culpepper Court House, Va. In 1827 [illegible] the Western Union [illegible] ministry in [illegible] in several States as a [illegible] and [illegible]. His ministerial [illegible] long and arduous one—one year [illegible] of the State Penitentiary [illegible] of a church at [illegible] at Saggs' Manor, New [illegible] at Aurora, Illinois; and three [illegible]. In 1865 he [illegible] the association [illegible] at Ottawa, and during a [illegible] time was [illegible] and well known series of letters entitled "Letters [illegible]" as District [illegible] of Ottawa, Ill., [illegible] for the purpose of organizing [illegible] so that at the ripe age of sixty-two, [illegible] died with his [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] which [illegible] having been a [illegible] good man, in the higher scriptural [illegible] word; a man of high culture and genial temper in all his [illegible]. Mr. E. Hamilton, of this [illegible] only [illegible].

[illegible]—We [illegible] on one or two occasions [illegible] the [illegible] mean conduct of some [illegible] who [illegible] the [illegible] story on [illegible] side of the [illegible] from graves; at other [illegible] have been dug up, rent and [illegible], and carried off. [illegible] with [illegible] though certain parties have been [illegible]. In the last few days, we learn, some villain has [illegible] several cards attached to headboards [illegible] to the [illegible] only [illegible] taken to [illegible] it may be difficult in [illegible] for part, is to [illegible] in the spots where they have laid their friends. If there be any [illegible] place on earth [illegible] sanctity [illegible] be more carefully guarded than [illegible], it is the spot [illegible] have laid away their loved ones. [illegible] strong enough and scathing [illegible] heart which [illegible] knives or the [illegible] grave yard inscriptions. One [illegible] with the late [illegible] and should they be [illegible] their next [illegible] visit may [illegible]

[illegible]—The [illegible] makes the [illegible] notice of the late [illegible] of gambling in [illegible] which [illegible] part [illegible] in this city and [illegible] in every other town in the State; since the [illegible] by the Supreme Court that the State law [illegible] that [illegible] have been held on the [illegible]. This result is natural enough, and [illegible] that a [illegible] open their [illegible] in Salem, though it will be news to [illegible] to be told that a [illegible] hell is in operation in a prominent location, and [illegible] it is [illegible] who have borne good character, but are paving the way to ruin by allowing themselves to be [illegible] to the gambling [illegible]. There is [illegible] of vices that go together, the one that [illegible] with it most naturally and [illegible] the ruin [illegible] lose or win at it, is that of gambling.

[illegible]—The following proceedings were had in the [illegible] C. P. Williams et al.; [illegible], $216 65. [illegible]

[illegible] Daly [illegible] White; verdict of jury in favor of [illegible] for plaintiff; [illegible]

[illegible]—Thos. Atchinson, Terrence Quinn and George Henderson; grand jury returned not true bills; [illegible] rated.

State of Oregon vs. Jos. [illegible] continued till next term.

[illegible]'s COURT.—The following proceedings were had in the [illegible] County [illegible] yesterday;

State vs. Jas. Ward, [illegible] of stealing $5 from G. [illegible] on First street between Yamhill and [illegible] till this afternoon.

City vs. [illegible] Jack; drunk and sleeping in the street; [illegible] to five days and [illegible] in the jail.

[illegible] Quitsack; assaulting and threatening [illegible] defendant [illegible] ted and trial [illegible]

[illegible] Choy and John Doe, a chinaman; accused of [illegible] clothing belonging to Mary Oh[illegible]shaw; [illegible] the defendant not [illegible]. There was [illegible] of the same kind against them, [illegible] who lives with Mary O'[illegible], with the same proceedings thereon.

[illegible]—A friend writes us from [illegible] Nov. 13th: "On the 10th inst. the drug [illegible] & Riley, of this place, was entered [illegible] by [illegible] the rear [illegible] and [illegible] open a partition door into the front room. By some [illegible] the burglar had obtained a key with [illegible] the outer door of the safe. Not being able to [illegible] the vault, he broke it loose from the cement in which it was imbedded, and took from it about [illegible] coin. He then helped himself to a part of a box of [illegible], which was, beside the coin, all that was missed. The plan [illegible] to have been well arranged, and by somebody who had some knowledge of the situation of things and how to fit a key for opening the safe. No clue [illegible], has been obtained to the perpetrator of the [illegible]."

[illegible] FOR PORTLAND.—The Sierra Nevada sailed from San Francisco on Saturday, for Portland, with the [illegible] list of [illegible]: E. M. Filbert, [illegible], Rurel, S. G. Skidmore, D. W. Crooks, Mrs. [illegible] and children, Beriah Brown, S. Dannenbaum, [illegible], G. M. Alay, L. Levy, Jos. Franklin, F. [illegible] and family, J. Levy, A. J. Jacobs, M. Kelly and [illegible], J. McCormick, Miss Lizzie Savage, Miss Sophie [illegible], S. Schwabach, M. S. Hellman, Mrs. C. M. [illegible], Mrs. M. O'Connor, Mrs. Windberg, Geo. H. Travis, M. Hutchinson, Sergeant O'Connel, S. S. Spencer and family and 30 in steerage.

NEW BOOKS.—The following new books have just been added to the Portland Library: Maria, Antoinette and her Son, by [illegible]; The Daughter of an Empress, by [illegible]; Avery Glibun; College Life, by Gilu; Queen Victoria's Memoirs of the Prince Consort; American Annual Cyclop'dia, from 1860 to 1866 6 volumes; Night and Morning, by Bulwer; Wool Gathering, by Gail Hamilton; Snow Bound, by Whittier; The Literature and Curiosities of Dreams; The Æneid of Virgil; American [illegible], Vol. 2, by Greeley; [illegible]'s United States, vol. 9.

GOOD BYE, JOHN.—We noticed, last evening, several [illegible] of Chinamen on their way to the steamer California to take passage for San Francisco. They were [illegible] Chinamen—Oregon has none of her own—and California is welcome to welcome them back. They were [illegible] with much household goods or gods, beyond each a bamboo pole and a bundle of blankets—an [illegible] that they were too poor ever to get back to Oregon. This is not a remarkably good [illegible] for the Chinese [illegible].

[illegible]—The steamer Alert, yesterday, [illegible] down from Oregon City 1,244 qr. sacks flour, 5 hf. bbls. [illegible], 460 bags [illegible], 62 bxs. [illegible], 1 bale [illegible], 3 bxs. merchandise, 47 gunnies bacon, and 6 bxs. eggs.

THE [illegible].—It was reported, last evening, that the [illegible] had met with an accident which detained her, [illegible] up yesterday, from Monticello; something the [illegible] with her steering apparatus.

DEATH OF THE "OREGON BABY."—The San Francisco Examiner mentions the death, Nov. 5th, of the mammoth steer, "Oregon Baby" which has attracted so much attention within the last few months, both in Oregon and California. After his exhibition at the California State Fair, he was purchased by D. W. Litchfield, of San Francisco, for the sum of $1,100 and was by him being fattened for Christmas. He weighed 3,060 pounds and was constantly increasing in size and weight.

FREIGHT FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship California took away the following list of freight, for San Francisco: 172 bbls salt provisions, 1,491 bags wheat, 1,440 qr sks flour, 102 bbls salmon, 30 hf bbls do., 2 bxs udse, 60 hf bbls dried apples, 325 sks middlings and 10 bundles sheep skins.

DEPARTURE.—The bark Almatia having completed her cargo at Springville, was towed out of the Willamette river, Saturday evening, by the Fannie Troup. She will proceed immediately to sea, if the weather be favorable upon her arrival at Astoria.

SAILED.—The steamship California sailed for San Francisco at 11 o'clock last night.

BARMAN'S new Fall and Winter styles of Clothing have just arrived by the [illegible], and will be opened to-day. All who have been waiting for the latest and best styles, can get them by calling at Barman's, corner of Front and Morrison.

EXTENSIVE AUCTION SALE.—Messrs. Falk & Kramer, at 10 o'clock this morning, will have an extensive sale of goods at auction, consisting of ladies' fur capes, shawls, dress patterns, embroidered and plain linen goods, balmorals, gloves, prints of several varieties, muslins, watches and jewelry, fancy and plain table setts, furniture, etc. Their display of goods is something quite beyond what we have been accustomed to see in any of the auction rooms. They have fitted up a large and commodious room adjoining the old corner store especially as an auction salesroom, and have filled it with a large stock and a great variety of desirable goods. Go in and see them this morning.

FOR ASTORIA.—The steamer Ranger will make a trip to Astoria on Wednesday morning, leaving Vaughn's wharf at eight o'clock. 2t

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

GOOD FOR OREGON.—Another source of revenue to the State has been [illegible]. We notice several shipments of Henley's Royal Balsam to California, and as soon as the bottles can be manufactured a large order will be filled from New York. The curative properties of this medicine are appreciated abroad as well as at home. See the certificates of several prominent citizens of the State on fourth page.

OREGONIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly [illegible] ble as a beverage, it is unequaled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the [illegible], many persons are [illegible] to attacks of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters are the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere.

DR. C. W. COOL
Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.
Those who desire FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate consists of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent. He has been making this style of work for the last two-and-a-half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case.
Price for upper teeth, $50; full set, upper and lower, $75 00. oc31dtf

TAKE NO MORE UNPLEASANT AND UNSAFE REMEDIES for unpleasant and dangerous diseases. Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

THE PEOPLE have been so [illegible] imposed upon by several worthless Sarsaparillas, that we are glad to be able to recommend a preparation which can be depended on as containing the virtues of that invaluable medicine, and is worthy of the public confidence. DOCT. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures when anything can cure, the diseases that require an alterative medicine.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
[illegible] Alterative, of [illegible] efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
[illegible] Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; [illegible] creates the organs of digestion [illegible]
Invigorates the Nerves and tends to prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of [illegible] arising from Bodily Weakness, whether [illegible] in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak [illegible] is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite [illegible] by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless [illegible], as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation [illegible] induced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The [illegible] on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the [illegible] influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re[illegible] and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and [illegible] materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Ring the Bell Softly.

Some one has gone from this strange world of ours,
No more to gather its thorns with its flowers;
No longer to linger where sunbeams must fade,
Where, on all beauty, death's fingers are laid;
Weary with mingling life's bitter and sweet,
Weary with parting and never to meet,
Some one has gone to the bright golden shore—
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Some one is resting from sorrow and sin,
Happy where earth's conflicts enter not in;
Joyous as birds, when the morning is bright,
When the sweet sunbeams have brought us their light;
Weary with sowing and never to reap,
Weary with labor and welcoming sleep—
Some one's departed to Heaven's bright shore,
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Angels were anxiously longing to meet
One who walks with them in Heaven's bright street;
Loved ones have whispered that some one is blest,
Free from earth's trials and taking sweet rest.
Yes! there is one more to angelic bliss—
One less to cherish, and one less to kiss;
One more departed to Heaven's bright shore,
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

South Sea Romance.

An old correspondent of the Bulletin, writing from Santa Barbara, alludes to the recent discoveries among the Pacific Archipelagoes, and repeats very pleasantly an old story—once before told in this city—of Lafitte's buried treasures. Lest however, any Cocos Island adventurer should rush off in quest of the old Barratarian cut-throat's doubloons, we would remark here that of all treasures, ill-gotten ones seem to be the m[illegible] hidden. History appears to [illegible] that the hoards of robbers enjoy [illegible] nities from despoiling hands. From the Greek cut-throat of the days of Pliny [illegible] modern Lafitte, the pirate's [illegible] hoards have been [illegible] earned savings have been dissip[illegible] ings have been turned inside out, and [illegible] savings have been ravaged from [illegible] out of the pages of a novel [illegible] heard of any well auth[illegible] of the discovery of pirate's buried [illegible]. Whether these gentlemen, being of a lively disposition [illegible] the habit of [illegible] any to bury; [illegible] some [illegible] the "Open Sesame" of [illegible] adversely in the [illegible] of evil, we cannot say. We only [illegible] despoiler [illegible] said to be [illegible] Kidd, Morgan [illegible] not [illegible]. In a country which [illegible] is one per[illegible] wrath one may perhaps [illegible] the wisdom of Provid[illegible] but the fact [illegible].

And yet it is not strange that the old story should find many and eager listeners. A practical people, we dwell on the verge of a vast sea, that during the past c[illegible] was dotted only by the [illegible] sail of [illegible] goods, or coral [illegible] peopled with superstition but complaisant [illegible]. The [illegible] of the old Pacific mariners, the Adalantado of the Seven C[illegible] never met with more surprising adventures than the [illegible] of the Manila galleon or the roving [illegible]. Even the old charts had a wild [illegible] California [illegible] know, [illegible] to know, that Maldonado [illegible] to have f[illegible] a passage to the Atlantic just above our [illegible] Russian acquisition, or that the Navigation of the Gila [illegible] was not only declared practi[illegible] by De Fonte, but that he [illegible] to have [illegible] Lake [illegible] by that river, only, alas, to find a Yankee Major G[illegible] of the Colony of "Massachusetts" there before him. It is not strange therefore that a Sayer of those old myths [illegible] on the shore laved by this legendary sea; [illegible] communication with China, Japan and the [illegible] that as yet does not carry letters with it partly lifts the mirage, [illegible] left to [illegible] of [illegible] Lafitte's buried store.

Like [illegible] myths, the South Sea Romance contains within itself a hidden truth. It is the symbol of something more permanent than itself. [illegible] this [illegible] and undiscovered country of [illegible] of these [illegible]. The [illegible] of Herman Melville have their [illegible] if Mardi and Typee have a doubtful existence. Riches to [illegible] than [illegible] wealth of [illegible] India are the unlocked stores of the P[illegible] Isles. Not only the tropical lux[illegible] of commerce cotton, rice, and [illegible]. And while we smile at the [illegible] of the Cocos Island and Syd[illegible] let us not forget that we of the Pacific [illegible] hold the key of [illegible] vast hoards of [illegible] that we have upon our lips the "open [illegible]" that shall yield into our hands [illegible] and that that mystic [illegible]

Napoleon's Ambition to Regulate the World.—The New York Times of the 12th ult. contains an article on this [illegible] from which we make the following extracts:

[illegible] why Napoleon should trouble [illegible] have all [illegible] mankind to regulate the [illegible] question. Had it not been for his [illegible] the Pope exercising his spiritual and [illegible] in Rome as the head of the Church, and with Victor Emanuel as sovereign of United Italy, things [illegible] arranged themselves [illegible] and [illegible] would have continued exciting cabinets [illegible] but one more [illegible] to teach him that he was not created to be the [illegible]lator of the world; and that though [illegible] to be the law of France, yet there are forces in human nature which must insure his overthrow, as certainly as [illegible] of the [illegible] of his race. It is but a few years since he not only [illegible] in Europe, but [illegible] to make it felt in America and Asia. He [illegible] to Italy, both as regards her external policy; he would dictate to Prussia and the Germanic [illegible]; he would patronize Austria and [illegible] Holland and Spain; he would [illegible] to resurrect Poland [illegible] Hungary [illegible] the Iberian Kingdoms; he would look ominously toward the C[illegible] as if Egypt were a French Province. He would [illegible] the United States, and [illegible] a French dependency in Mexico; and, [illegible] of the earth, he would plant his flag in Cochin China, and threaten to extend his [illegible] in the Orient till it was as extensive with his ambition. It was this country which first [illegible] and in carrying on his [illegible] against [illegible] and against Mexico, he got his first lesson in a lesson in which [illegible] he ought soon to be [illegible]. Last year, [illegible] a tremendous blow, and [illegible] with blows [illegible] fast, that now he has nothing to [illegible] in that [illegible]. And so we might [illegible] till we [illegible] to the present hour, when circumstances [illegible] be forming for [illegible] between Italy and Pr[illegible] and the other Protestant Powers, which will demonstrate to Napoleon that he can no longer be dictator beyond the bonds of France.

Sentiments of the House Judiciary Committee.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writing under date of October 18th, says: [illegible] attempts have been [illegible] to discredit the truth of the dispatch sent to you on Wednesday, regarding impeachment. These contradictions were sent by persons who had no direct knowledge of the facts. The inter[illegible] on this subject by both parties has been intense, and it became the absorbing topic in political circles yesterday. A person bearing [illegible] relations to President Johnson, having sought to impeach the veracity of the dispatch of your correspondent, accompanied by him, called last evening upon the member of the Judiciary Committee from whom the information was derived, to ascertain whether he would confirm the accuracy of the statement previously made.

After stating the point at issue and calling attention to the dispatch as published, the reply of the member was that the dispatch and statement contained therein were strictly true, from his own personal knowledge; that he indorsed every word, but that he deemed it unnecessary to enter into a discussion of any one point, as the information in his possession justified him in saying he knew the contents of the dispatch to be true; and further, in his own mind he felt satisfied that every Republican member of the Committee would, on the 13th of Nov., when the Committee assembles, be in favor of impeachment. He added that it was not a question of mere party or politics, but of the future welfare of the nation. The success or defeat of the Republican party had nothing to do with it, and in that light it would be viewed by the Committee. This interview was immediately reported to the President, who, it is understood, exhibits much uneasiness, and the matter was talked over until a late hour last night by him and his friends at the White House.

The careful parents of a four-year-old boy in Cleveland having indulged him in roving propensities, by pinning a card to his back on which was written. "Johny Chesebro, City Hotel—please return." The little fellow came back the other day with a leg off, having been run over by a street car.

Suicides.—The Register General has published a curious return of the number of suicides in England during the eight years from 1858 to 1865. They average 1,300 annually, and to every million of the population run thus in each successive year: 66, 64, 70, 68, 65, 66 and 67. Hanging has always been the death generally adopted by suicides, 28 out of the ratio of 67 per million suicides falling under this head. After hanging follow cutting, stabbing or drowning, poisoning, and by firearms. The ratio of suicides per million of the respective populations in 1864, was 110 in France, 64 in England, 45 in Belgium, 30 in Italy, and 15 in Spain.

During the recent "season" at Saratoga, a little knot of ladies, seated in the parlor of Leland's hotel, were discussing the subject of marriage. One of the party, a single young lady, said: "Matches are made in heaven." "Very likely," was the quiet rejoinder of a married lady, her friend, "and they are often dipped in the other place!"

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in [illegible] to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of [illegible] is [illegible] and [illegible], but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its [illegible] were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible, in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seemed to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of these neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after [illegible] efforts to persuade the Inventor to more [illegible] the knowledge of its virtues, finally [illegible] of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by [illegible] to them a [illegible] does and will cure [illegible] and all [illegible].

He [illegible] it will cure all diseases of the eye, [illegible] or long standing; but its [illegible] exhibited when it is [illegible] Chronic Cases of long [illegible] which have [illegible] other [illegible] to cure, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

PROSPECTUS

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURCHASED the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mechanical, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $5 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

RELIEVING THOUSANDS

FROM

COUGHS, COLDS,

Bronchitis,

ASTHMA, CROUP, HOARSENESS,

WHOOPING COUGH,

AND

OF THE

Chest and Lungs.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The unfailing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been afflicted with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any beneficial benefit, and all their remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was affected at once. I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit; and I might say [illegible] effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

Dear Dr. Henley—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, [illegible] all the physicians and [illegible] I could get to no purpose. The [illegible] the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten [illegible] within a month and feel quite [illegible]. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

Dear Dr. Henley—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was troubled at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it is of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly,
W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morrill.

Dear Dr. Henley—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it. I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I remain yours, truly,
J. H. MORRILL.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT!

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

Will Cure All Pains in a Few Minutes!

Read the Certificates!

STRAINED WRIST CURED.

Portland, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

VINCENT McCULLOUGH,
Corner of Fifth and College streets.

Tumor Removed!

Portland, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I. MITCHELL.

Portland, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me. I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them.

Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever.

Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted; or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of [illegible] physicians from Europe and elsewhere. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow [illegible] dark [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 262.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

A CHALLENGE!

WHEREAS, NUMEROUS PERSONS, all around us are afflicted, who might be cured by a course of treatment at this Institution, and

WHEREAS, they have no knowledge of this system of practice, and are therefore unable to judge of its merits until they see it rigidly and honestly tested; therefore, we make the following very liberal offer to persons of good character who are known in this State and Washington Territory:

THE FIRST TWELVE who apply within three months from this date, will be CURED if affected with an Acute Disease, or, if the case is Chronic, the patient will be treated ONE MONTH FREE OF CHARGE, and Six Dollars only will be required per week for Board and Lodging during treatment.
